Construction management

In our Construction management and project management services our firm utilizes a variety of Professional service providers that combine to represent hundreds of years of professional construction knowledge and experience. In our 35-year history, we have successfully completed projects from Florida to Arizona and have consulted on international projects from Costa Rica to Dubai. Our business model emphasizes improved professional relationships, team building, professional education design to enhance skills and awareness of the latest trends, practices building codes and materials. We pride ourselves on exceeding our clients' expectations and providing the highest quality of service.

Our technology services focus on Audio /Video, Security and Lighting and Solar. We have built out one of the largest Television and 200k+ Recording Studios in the St. Louis region. Including The 5-million-dollar UPN studio and The Rap star Nelly's professional studio. We also have experience with Houses of worship, theaters, restaurants, commercial integrated systems and home automation.

Our in-house technology solutions utilize in-house project management, marketing and design development, use of Auto CAD for shop drawings and 3-D max for environmental design forecasting and architectural solutions.

Product and service procurement and supply management

Our company also has years of experience in sourcing, procuring and buying on the international market. This gives us a unique understanding of shipping logistics, freight forwarding and large commercial sales contracts and rules. So, weather its supplying water to a disaster area or resources for a large convention, we can assist.
